ICL Accupro Professional Drop Spreader

The new and improved ACCUPRO DROP Spreader is designed to deliver exceptional performance and durability for both professional and home use.

Built with a robust stainless-steel frame, it is engineered to withstand tough conditions, ensuring a longer lifespan.

The spreader features large, durable tyres that provide excellent stability and effortless manoeuvrability on uneven terrain.

Its ergonomic extended handle offers superior comfort during operation, even for prolonged periods.

For added convenience, the front and rear lift handles make loading and unloading quick and easy.

The innovative SmartDial™ setting control mechanism allows for precise application adjustments, enhancing accuracy and ensuring optimal results.

Whether you're managing a large landscaping project or maintaining a garden, the ACCUPRO DROP Spreader combines reliability, precision, and ease of use to meet all your spreading needs.

See manual for simple assembly, use and cleaning instructions.

Not suitable for spreading controlled release, coated products.

We have a great range of products to help create the perfect landscape, so why not browse our complete Garden range.
